Introduction to Our Approach: Employment Systems and Levers for Change

Work Equity at Boston College has prepared toolkits to help employers strengthen the equity of employment systems at the workplace.

As indicated in Figure 1, we have selected 10 employment systems for equity assessments. This Toolkit focuses on the equity of the Employee separation from the organization may be initiated either by:

- the employee (for example, having accepted a position with a different employer, retirement, etc.), or
- by the employer (for example, as a result of furloughs, lay-offs, firing, etc.).

We recognize that your organization has access to seven mechanisms that have the potential to address some of the root causes of inequities embedded in your organization’s employment systems. We refer to these mechanisms as L e v e r s f o r C h a n g e. (See Figure 1.)

We consider Levers for Change to be different ways that your organization can strengthen the equity of your Separation System.

We use the following definitions of the Levers for Change:

Policies
 Formal (typically written) policies that establish expectations for various processes, including the equity of employment systems, such as policies that govern recruitment and hiring.

Procedures
 Written or unwritten specification of steps used to complete tasks, including activities that could affect the equity of employment systems, such as "best practices" related to the supervision of employees.

Performance Metrics
 Planning, data collection and interpretation of information related to the equity of employment systems, such as conducting "audits" of compensation.

Accountability
 Designation of one (or more) person(s) who is accountable for Diversity-Equity-Inclusion (DEI) activities related to the equity of one (or more) employment system(s), such as the selection of an HR person to assess the equity of annual employee performances.

Values
 Values and principles espoused by the organization, including values related to Diversity-Equity-Inclusion, such as statements by top managers about the importance of workforce diversity for innovation.

Climate
 Employees' sense of their everyday work experiences, particularly experiences that affect perceptions of inclusion (that is, a sense of: belonging to the organization, being treated with respect, etc.), such as being invited to offer opinions about decisions that affect employees' jobs.

Communication
 Access to information, including information about the equity of employment systems, such as information about possible promotion opportunities.

We will re-visit the Levers for Change for the Separation System in Steps 3 and 4 of this Toolkit.

Steps of Your Separation System Equity Initiative

The Separation System Equity Toolkit is organized into 5 steps. (See Figure 2.)

Each of the steps in the Toolkit reflects a design thinking process:

- first, empathizing about equity issues and opportunities (Step 1: Take the Audit),
- defining the problem and gaining insight about possible causes of inequities (Step 2: Benchmark),
- ideating and getting insight from employees' experiences (Step 3: Consider Variations in Equity),
- prototyping and testing for innovation in your Separation System (Step 4: Generate Ideas for Innovation), and
- implementing (Step 5: Implement Innovations).

Roles and Responsibilities for Your Equity Assessment

It is possible that one person – for example, a department manager – might decide to work on some or all the 5 steps of the Toolkit as a way to:

1. systematically think about the equity of the Separation System, and
2. get ready to share ideas about the equity of Separation System and garner the support of top leaders of the organization.

However, organizations that want to make (or renew) a commitment to innovations in DEI will probably find it important to engage a group of people (possibly from different areas of the organization) in each of the Toolkit activities.

Your organization should make decisions about assigning the following roles and responsibilities:

Leader(s) of the Separation System Equity Initiative: Typically, the Leader will:
(1) invite/select people to participate in the Separation System Equity Initiative,
(2) manage the project (for example, scheduling meetings and preparing materials),
(3) monitor progress with the five steps in the Toolkit, and
(4) ensure that communications related to the Equity Initiative are prepared and distributed to the appropriate audiences.

Members of an Existing Committee: The Leader(s) of your Equity Initiative might decide to invite the members of an existing committee (such as a Diversity-Equity-Inclusion Committee) to participate in the Equity Initiative. In some situations, however, it might be necessary for the Leader(s) to expand the membership of an existing committee or to form an entirely new task force or committee. The members of the committee should have diverse perspectives and experiences that could be relevant to the work.

Other Employees: The Leader(s) of your Equity Initiative might want to periodically consult with and/or get feedback from employees at the organization who are not officially on the Equity Initiative Committee. For example, supervisors might have interesting perspectives about the strengths and weaknesses of different aspects of the organization's Separation System.

Top Managers: It will be the responsibility of top managers to communicate their support for the Separation System Equity Initiative and to articulate how equity at the workplace aligns with key business goals and strategies.

The Process

Organizations might complete the five steps over several months.

Directions:
The Equity Initiative Leader can use Worksheet #1 (next page) to clarify target dates for the completion of each step. This worksheet should be reviewed by the Equity Initiative Committee and adjustments should be made, as needed.
